Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Think about a trip you were on. What did you do?
- What did you enjoy the most? Why?

Can Do Statements

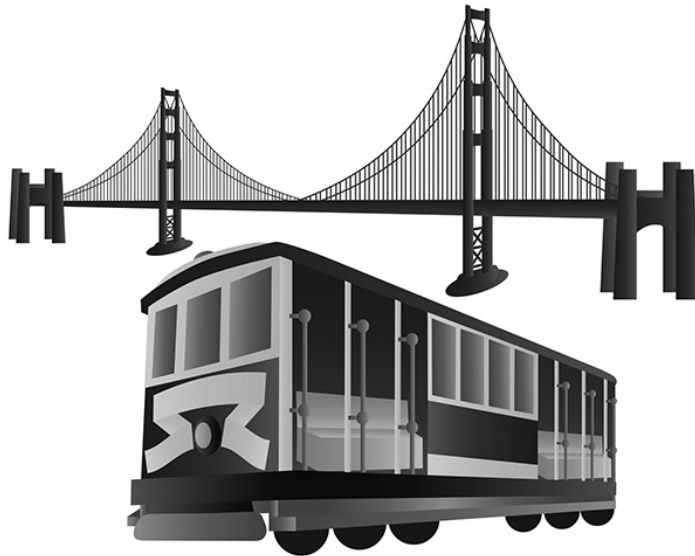

- I can talk or report about places, actions, events or people.
- I can talk about plans, arrangements and current actions.
- I can ask for and give permission and clarification and I can show flexibility.

Let's Explore!

Peter talks about his time in San Francisco.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: I can't believe you're leaving tomorrow!
Peter: I know! Time is flying. We're having a great time. Can I come back again?
Vanessa: Of course! You could come back this summer.
Peter: Maybe!
Vanessa: What did you like the most?
Peter: It was the city tour we took. We visited so many different neighborhoods decorated for Christmas. I enjoyed getting a ride in a cable car.
Vanessa: Yes, that was fun.
Peter: Oh, and the Palace of Fine Arts was awesome.
Vanessa: Did you like the collection of modern art we saw?
Peter: Oh yeah, that exhibit was different, wasn't it!
Vanessa: Could you explain what you mean?
Peter: We saw some cool paintings, but modern art is not really for me.
Vanessa: OK, I understand.

Learning Points

Simple Present vs. Present Continuous Tenses

You use the Simple Present tense to talk about:

- a routine action or specific action that happens regularly
- a general truth
- to give personal information

You can use expressions of frequency like every day or always with the Simple Present.

You form the Present Continuous with the verb to be + verb-ing.

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about:

- a current event or action happening around now
- events that are going to happen soon (future plans)

You can use expressions like right now or later with the Present Continuous.

Present Tense	Present Continuous Tense
I understand what you mean.	You're leaving tomorrow!
What do you mean by that?	I am looking forward to coming back next year.

Review of Modals

You often use a modal like can, may, could or would to ask for permission.

You also use the modals may, might or could to show possibility.

The modal could is used to ask for clarification.

Modals are placed before a verb in the base form. The verb does not change.

Examples:

- Can I come back next year? (permission)
- You could come back this summer. (possibility)
- Could you explain what you mean (by that)? (clarification)
