Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Peter gives Sally an update on his trip to San Francisco.

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- How often do you speak to your friends on the phone?
- Do they know where you are at all times?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about places in a city.
- I can use words to describe general quantities.
- I can talk or report about actions, events or people.

Let's Explore!

Listen to Peter and Sally's conversation. Why does Sally call Peter a fool?

* A "fool" is a silly person.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter: Hey Sal, what's been happening?
Sally: Not a lot, how's San Francisco?
Peter: It's been pretty eventful, more than I bargained for.
Sally: How?
Peter: Well, I was in an accident on my way from the airport.
Sally: Oh no. Was it serious?
Peter: No ... but there were some cable cars and angry tourists involved.
Sally: Yikes! How's Vanessa?
Peter: She's good. She's going to ask her boss about getting some time off.
Sally: I bet she's busy with the new job. Sous-chefs work a lot of hours.
Peter: It's been nice to hang out with her. We went Christmas shopping at the marina a couple days ago.
Sally: I bet she took you to all her favorite haunts. She loves art galleries and quirky shops.
Peter: We spent plenty of time in the Mission neighborhood. It seemed a bit too hipster for me.
Sally: Oh Peter, you're such a fool!
