

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Welcome to Fog Town.

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can pronounce and compare the j and y sound.
- I can say simple sentences.
- I can identify key information in a short audio.

Ask your partner:

- Does your town or city have a nickname?
- What is it?
- Why does it have that name?

Let's Explore!

Listen to Peter and Vanessa chat about San Francisco. What's San Francisco's nickname?

* A "nickname" is a name that is not the real name of a person or city.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Thanks for the tour yesterday.
Vanessa: Sorry about breakfast ... the food is usually great at the Bayside Eatery. My eggs looked more grey than yellow. It must be the yolks.
Peter: I was enjoying the view of those yachts on the bay.
Vanessa: It's not always so clear. They call San Fran "Fog Town" for a reason.
Peter: Why?
Vanessa: It's got something to do with the ocean currents, inland valleys and the wind.
Peter: I see. Do you want to go for a jog? I feel lazy and bloated. My healthy eating plan went out the window the minute I arrived.
Vanessa: We can head up the bay trail tomorrow morning if you like.
Peter: Get ready for a ten-mile sprint!
Vanessa: Huh? You've got to be joking!
Peter: Yes, I was always the joker of the group.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa and Peter talk about San Francisco.

Instructions: Read the sentences below. Fill in the blanks with the missing word.

1. I feel lazy and _____.
2. We can head up the _____ trail tomorrow morning, if you like.
3. Get ready for a ten mile _____!
4. My healthy eating plan went out the _____ the minute I arrived.
5. It's got something to do with the ocean _____, inland valleys and the wind.

Let's Practice!

Let's compare the j and y sound.

Instructions: Practice reading the words and sentences aloud.

1. yolk, yellow, yacht
2. jog, joker, joking
3. My eggs looked more gray than yellow.
4. Do you want to go for a jog?
5. It must be the yolks.
6. I was enjoying the view of those yachts on the bay.
1. Yes, I was always the joker of the group.

Extension Activity

Let's practice using the Y and J sound.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Say these minimal pairs aloud with a partner.
- Choose 8 words from the table. (4 Y words and 4 J words)
- Write 4 sentences. Each sentence must contain 1 word starting with Y and J.
- Read the sentences aloud to a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I read words with the Y and J sounds to practice pronunciation.

☐ ☐

I write sentences that use the Y and J sounds.

☐ ☐

With a partner, I read sentences aloud that use these sounds.

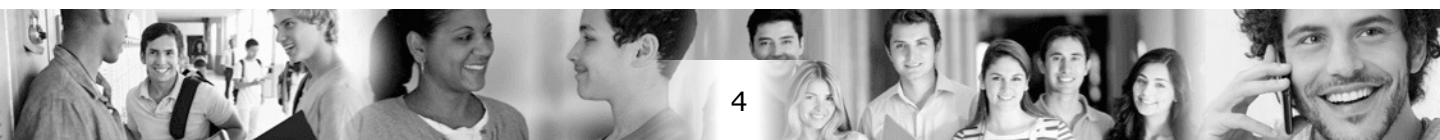

☐ ☐

Y sound	yam, yard, yet, use, year, yacht, yoke, yak, yes, yell
J sound	jam, jarred, jet, juice, jeer, jot, joke, Jack, Jess, gel

Target Words

- eatery (noun): a small and informal restaurant
e.g. The food is usually great at the Bayside Eatery.
- yolk (noun): the yellow part in the center of an egg
e.g. My eggs looked more grey than yellow. It must be the yolks.
- fog (noun): many small drops of water floating in the air making it hard to see e.g. There is a lot of fog in the summer in San Francisco.
- sprint (noun): to run or go very fast for a short distance
e.g. Get ready for a ten-mile sprint!
- joker (noun): a person who tells or makes many jokes
e.g. I was always the joker of the group.
- trail (noun): a path through a forest or field
e.g. We can jog along the bay trail tomorrow.
- to head up (verb): to go upwards along a path, mountain, or trail
e.g. We head up the mountain this afternoon.
- out the window (expression): gone or wasted
e.g. My routine is out the window.
- bloated (adjective): very swollen; too full of food or liquid
e.g. I feel bloated after that meal.
- current (noun): movement of water or air
e.g. The ocean currents can affect the weather.

Learning Points

J and Y Sounds

The English letters J and Y have different sounds. They can be difficult to pronounce because the sound is similar.

To pronounce the y sound, the mid/front part of the tongue raises and presses against the roof of the mouth. The tip of the tongue comes down and lightly touches behind the bottom front teeth.

Say the words:

yellow, yes, yoke, youth

To pronounce the j sound, close your teeth and move your tongue up to cut off the flow of air. Say something while quickly lowering your tongue and opening your teeth slightly.

Say the words:

jello, joke, jester

